New Bookstore Near Completion

A new campus bookstore, almost twice as large as the present one, will be completed by early next semester.

The $400,000 two story structure will feature unique interior decorations plus up to eight check-out counters for speedy service.

Funds for the new bookstore were provided by a five per cent loan from the Bank of America and the Hornet Foundation, a private non-profit organization that provides food and book services for the college.

The bookstore will take up nearly 18,000 square feet and cost about $15 per square foot. It will be able to handle an estimated 14-16,000 students, whereas the present store is designed for a student body of 4-6,000. Only books will be sold on the second floor with the first floor devoted to general merchandise.

Agile fingers control the machine that stamps you forever as a number in Sacramento State College. The IBM machine punches information out at a fantastic rate, keeping up of course, with today's fast pace of mechaniization and rapid processing. Symbollic of this last year was the reading of the names of graduates at graduation, yet without the traditional pomp and circumstance and hand-shaking, this save time — and so goes the sentiment of yesteryear.

Enrollment Up From Last Year

The enrollment for the fall semester at Sacramento State is up by more than three per cent over the figure for the fall session last year.

A total of 9,428 students were processed during the advanced and regular registration procedures for this yea . The figure last year was 9,102.

"But this is by no means the final figure," noted registrar Dean C. Landis. "We expect a large number to take part in late registration which continues through October 1."

The Psychology, Business Administration, Speech and Anthropology departments, according to college officials, were the heaviest hit by students seeking classes.

"The classes are full," said Landis, "But we hope space will be found for all students following the shakedown this week."

The shortages in classes has been attributed to the failure of the college to secure instructors in the heavy enrolment sections.

Landis also noted that students will be involved in new procedures for adding and dropping classes.

A new college policy effected by the college council has set the last day to drop a course without academic penalty and the final day to add a course as October 1.

Previously the drop date was as much as two weeks following the final add date. Students will be able to secure registration materials for adjustments in the foyer of the administration building. Adjustments may be made by the following schedule:

Today students may change programs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the registrar's window. The schedule resumes Monday running through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. October 1, the final day, will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

WE WON'T FORGET

We begin the fall semester straining for the thunder of a world explosion unparalleled in time. To review the "trouble" spots of the world is not necessary. We are aware of them, and aware of them we must be. What is happening throughout the world is no game. We listen to reports of the war, the riots and the uprisings with the knowledge that our security is egg shell thin. But we listen and forget. The shell has not yet broken in Sacramento. Be complacent. Listen and forget.

No, we won't forget. The Hornet can pierce shells —shells, the security of student government yolks with offices and pinships, the wall between placard-carrying students and professional administrators and the security of shallow fraternity forms raised on electrically charged wire mesh surrogates. No, we won't forget.

Read the Hornet, and read it well. But remember—albumin runs.

Drama Tryouts Conclude Today

Tryouts for George Bernard Shaw's controversial play, "St. Joan," will conclude today in the Little Theatre.

Gerald Larson, absent on sabbatical in Europe last year, will direct the production to open on Friday, October 29.

English Screening Test To Be Given

English Screening examinations will be held on Thursday, October 7, and Monday, October 11, from 2:30-4:30 p.m., in Administration 275.

All English majors and minors and all persons who will take the elementary and secondary credentials with a major or minor in English must take the exam no later than the second semester of the sophomore or beginning of the junior year.

Those who wish to take the exam should register at least two days before the examination in Douglas Hall, 214.

An important preliminary meeting will be held for all those intending to take the screening exam in Douglas Hall 212 Thursday, September 30, at 1 p.m. All are expected to attend.

APG Officers Named

David Harrer, Statesman editor, will head the 1965-66 activities of Alpha Phi Gamma national honorary journalism fraternity.

Other officials for the fraternity are Linda Stewart, first vice president; Jan May, second vice president; Michele McCollough, secretary - treasurer; Irlene Nimmo, bailiff; and Roberta Veit, historian.

Message From ASSSC President

TO ALL NEW AND RETURNING STUDENTS:

As we start out the new year it is our hope in student government that, working together, we can begin anew the task of representing students. For too long adequate representation has been a campaign issue. We intend to make it a fact.

And if it can be said of this administration that it has a theme, an underlying bias, then I think the year to come will show that bias to be to the academic.

Significant of this bias is the present student govt's. commitment to expansion and development of the cultural programs. Marked not only by a substantial financial increase, but also by the active interest and concern of many, the cultural programs can be assured of continuing support as they grow with the needs of the campus.

More closely related to the classroom, the faculty evaluation committee will contact and tour local campuses in an effort to complete arrangements for an extensive and responsible student evaluation of the faculty.

As in the past, the College Union has dominated much of our thinking. Questionnaires and reports are presently being analyzed to determine what steps should be taken. We remain confident that the overwhelming majority of students support the concept of a Union.

In addition we remain interested in student problems as related to space. Through the Hornet Foundation we have been actively participating in the plans for the new bookstore. Also, originally on the initiative of Ken Olds, we are working for an outdoor sunken eating area through the Hornet Foundation.

Finally, as stated earlier, we are all dependent—both as the represented and as representatives on communications. For this reason we will be keeping a close eye on the Hornet newspaper to determine if it is meeting the needs of the student body. We will lend all assistance and take all action necessary and possible to this end.

We ask that all students join with us in an attempt to upgrade the quality of student life on the campus. We need your ideas, your opinions, your criticisms, your help.

Perhaps in the next two months or even two semesters we won't solve all problems, reach great heights, or significantly effect the college but we are challenged by opportunity and it commands us to step forward. So I ask of you, as John F. Kennedy said, "Let us begin."

Herring Speaks About Vietnam

Dr. Francis Herring who was a delegate to the American-Vietnamese Women's meeting in Jakarta, will appear in Sacramento on Thursday, September 30.

Her appearance will take place at 8 p.m. in the Ribera Room.

Dr. Herring, who, since 1957, has been a member of the research staff of the Institute of Governmental Studies of the University of California at Berkeley; went with a group of other American women to Jakarta.

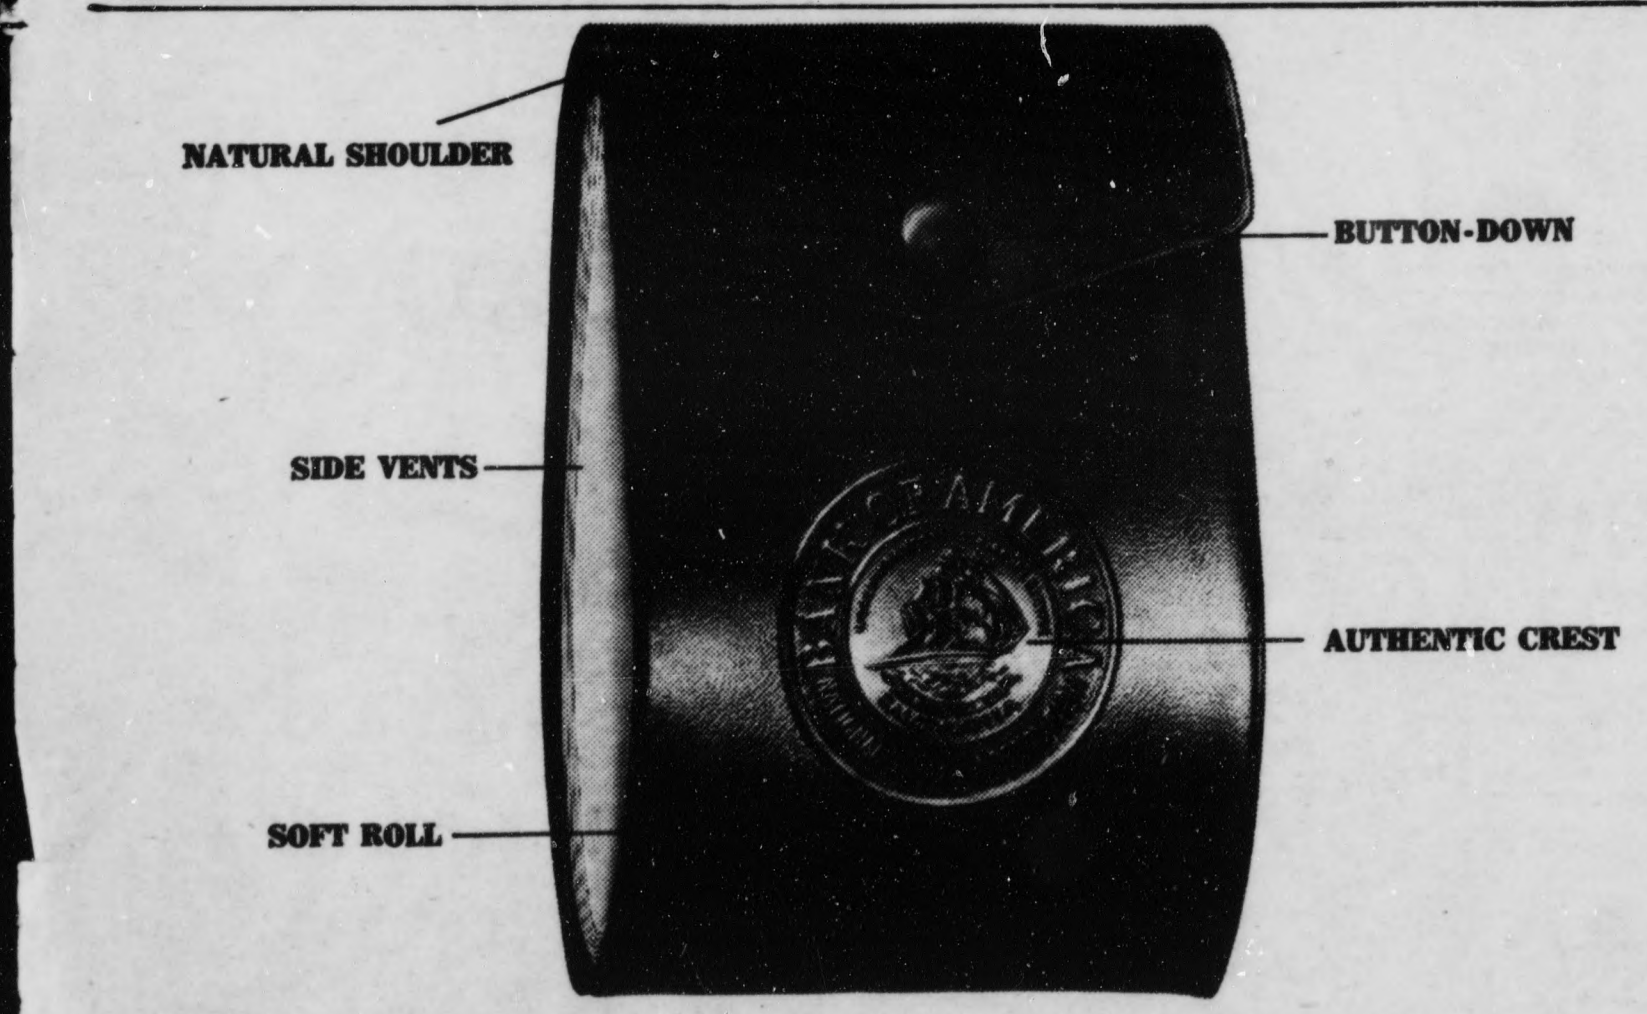

There they met and talked with North and South Vietnameses women and jointly drew up a declaration for ending the war in Viet Nam. She had the opportunity to hear first hand on a personal level about life in a war torn country.

Dr. Herring will discuss the nature of the National Liberation Front, its relation to the government of North Viet Nam, the nature of the war and whether it is one of aggression from the north, the Vietnamese attitude toward the United Nations, and the role played by women in the war.

The trip to Jakarta which was sponsored by Women Strike for Peace took place in July of this year, and since then the delegates have been involved in speaking tours.

Capable of speeds better than 2,000 mph, the YF-12A is the hottest aircraft around. Now Maj. Walter F. Daniel, test pilot for the YF-12A, answers your questions about the world's fastest manned airplane and America's Aerospace Team.

(Maj. Daniel, a test pilot since 1954, is a member of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots. He received a B.S. degree in Aeronautical Engineering from the University of Oklahoma. In February 1962, he set world class time-to-climb records in a T-38 jet trainer.)

Is the YF-12A the world's fastest manned aircraft?

It certainly is. On May 1 of this year the YF-12A (formerly known as the A-11) reclaimed the world absolute speed record from the USSR. It was clocked at 2,062 mph over Edwards Air Force Base.

How big is the YF-12A?

The exact dimensions of the YF-12A have not been released yet. But it's approximately 100 feet long, with about a 50-foot wingspan. That's half again as big as our present interceptors!

Is the Air Force training many men as pilots these days?

Yes, very definitely. In spite of all you hear about unmanned vehicles, the human pilot is still very much in the picture. As a matter of fact, the Air Force pilot quota is on the increase.

What other kinds of jobs does the Air Force offer?

Since it's one of the world's foremost technological organizations, the Air Force has plenty of openings for scientists and engineers. There are also many challenging and varied administrative-managerial positions.

What do I have to do to become an Air Force officer?

Air Force ROTC is the best way to get started as an Air Force officer. The new two-year Air Force ROTC program makes this method available to men who have already completed a year or two of their college education. For college graduates, if you did not take advantage of ROTC, you can still get started through Air Force Officer Training School (OTS), a three-month course open to both men and women.

Can I keep up my studies while I'm in the Air Force?

The Air Force encourages its men and women to continue their educations. For instance, you may qualify to study for a graduate degree during off-duty hours, with the Air Force paying a substantial part of the tuition.

What kind of future do I have in the Air Force?

A bright one. As we move further into the Aerospace Age, the Air Force is going to grow even more important. And you can grow with it!

HORNET SPORTS EDITOR

Embarking on his fifth season with the SSC Hornets, head coach Ray Clemons has had bad news even before his opening game victory over the Portland State Vikings.

The injury loss of fullback and placement kicker Mike Clemons, son of the coach, can only retard the effectiveness of the SSC offense, a unit that set an all time school scoring record last year with 213 points. Clemons led the green and gold with eight touchdowns and added 16 conversions and four field goals for a record 76 points. His 42-yard punting average will be missed, not to mention 350 net yards rushing for a 2.9 average.

Stellar defensive back Jan Hoganson who, like Clemons, sold out as a sophomore last year, suffered a cracked ankle in practice and will be out of action indefinitely. Jan was expected to carry the load of an offensive back this year.

All-FWC quarterback Bob Miller is the only veteran in the backfield. Miller clicked on 46 per cent of his aerials for 909 yards and nine touchdowns. He ran for an additonal 148 yards with a total offense mark of 1075 yards.

Rich Joeger, who helped lead the 1963 freshman squad to an impressive 7-1 mark, sat out last year's action with an injury. He is slated to climb into the position vacated by last year's rushing leader Homer Mascorro, lost through graduation.

Miller should not be deprived of the laurels he received last year when the ability of his receivers is explicated, but he must throw to an entirely new receiving corps this year, following the graduation of the top five receivers of last year, including all-FWC choice, Gary Kelley. John Heintz, varsity letterman last year, and American River JC transfer, Davie Cummings, one of Saturday's heroes, qualify as the top receivers.

All-FWC tackle, Barney Brust, the only Hornet to go both ways, suffered an injury in the Portland game.

"I don't know if I'll play against the Broncos," Barney told us. "It's a day to day affair. I've been taking whirlpool bath treatments and I'd ay it's about a 50-50 chance I'll play."

It would be rough losing him. Barney anchored one of the finest SSC lines in history last year, part of a defense that allowed only nine touchdowns in 10 regular season games, including five shutouts.

Monterey JC transfer, Bill Morrisroe, culled to carry Clemons' burden, showed signs of effectiveness both in rushing and kicking the winning conversion. Rick Swan, victim of an unimpressive punting exhibition, expects to improve. The senior from Miami (Fla.) University may also get an occasional nod at quarterback.

Halfback Rich Falk must be given a better opportunity to show his ability. The Bakersfield transfer showed signs of potential Saturday.

The pickings are lean this year, but confidence on the part of SSC students has got to help the morale of the Hornets as they try for a second straight FWC crown.

Hornets Edge PSC 7 To 6 In Opener

Bob Miller's 71- yard touchdown pass to Davie Cummings on the second play from scrimmage eased the Hornets past the Portland State Vikings 7-6 in the first game of the season Saturday.

Junior halfback Rich Joeger, freshman whiz out with an injury last year, ran the opening kickoff from the SSC four to the 27. Miller gained two to the 29 before unloading the bomb. Cummings who had beaten his defender by two strides, hauled in the pass just over midfield and raced home with the only score for SSC, after 45 second of game time had elapsed. Bill Morrisroe added the conversion which stood up as the margin of victory.

Led by Rick Silva and Andy Berkis, the Vikings outrushed the Hornets 114 to 35 yards. Junior college transfer Morrisroe, filling in for last year's Hornet scoring leader and number two rusher Mike Clemons, prevented the Vikings from complete rushing dominance with 27 yards in 10 carries.

Portland completely outplayed the Hornets following the opening score. The only things the 2100 fans could cheer at were the songleaders.

PSC threatened several times, but was unable to score, until Miller's pass was picked off by Steve Mikulic on the PSC 17 and returned to the 26 midway into the final period. The Vikings moved steadily downfield, going 74 yards in 15 plays, with freshman quarterback Ed Gorman plunging over from the four for the touchdown.

Following a delay of game penalty on the conversion attempt, Dave Beyerlein's kick of an extra five yards sailed wide to the right, and SSC held on to a slim 7-6 lead.

But the Vikings weren't through. SSC received a punt on their own 15. Fading back to pass, Miller was hit on the nine, the ball jarred loose, and exuberant PSC tackle Gene Davis, the hero, now fell on it. When Silva, Gorman, and Val Thompson could gain no appreciable yardage, Davis attempted a 21-yard field goal. The halo eluded him this time, and the kick went wide right.

Miller ran out the clock by falling on the ball to preserve a rather tainted victory, but a victory nevertheless.

Tomorrow the Hornets take to their home field again for a non-conference tussle with the powerful Santa Clara Broncos. The visitors dumped the Cal Aggies 18-7 last weekend, and offer stiff competition for the defending FWC champs.

Mermen Look To Impressive Year

Head water polo coach Joe Glander, recuperating in a hospital, has reason to be optimistic about his 1965 season ahead.

With 15 veterans returning, Glander can count on much needed experience. Among the returning lettermen are Tim Bloom, 1964 Most Valuable Player, current player-coach Pat Monahan, Phil Moncrief, Bob Sanders and Gary Froter, both second team All-FWC performers last year.

Third place last year, the SSC squad expects much improvement. The season opens October 1 at Chico.

Rally Tonite Kicks Off Bronco Tilt

Tonight will see the second semester activity of an active Rally Committee, with a rally which begins at 7 p.m. in the residence hall parking lot, open to all students.

Chairman for the rally, which plans live entertainment, is Jan Goldberg. The second football game of the season will be held tomorrow.

A rooting section is also planned for tomorrow's game, along the 50 yard line. Students must wear white to be admitted to the section.

Rally Committee also has tentative short rallys planned for October 8 and 15.

Committee officers this semester include chairman Larry Warren, executive vice chairman Marsha Rapp, Womens Vice-chairman Kathy Dodson, Director of Rallys Jan Goldberg, Secretary Barbara Merwin, Treasurer Linda Shinn, and representatives from both yell and song teams.

PART-TIME STUDENT NOTICE

Part-time students (those carrying six units or less) may purchase associate student activity cards for themselves at the cashier's window in the Student Lounge. The card, which costs $5, entitles the student to all rates of full time students at ASSSC sponsored events.
